

This is a great law. If you turn it over it means senseless calls being made trying to sell me items I don't even want. I used to get tones of calls at dinner time. I don't think I listened to even one of them. I had to block the local news papers number because they called so many times that it became annoying enough to waste the extra money to block them form calling my number. Please don't kill this law.